Property Description

Ideally situated on a very private 5.75 acres of lush jungle, tropical fruit trees and a flowing stream, this newly remodeled 2 bedroom home with a bonus room (potential 3rd bedroom) boasts panoramic ocean views looking down at Dominicalito Bay and the surrounding mountain peaks. During the nights you can hear the waves crashing on the beach below. The old-growth jungle surrounding the property provides corridors for passing troops of monkeys, toucans and many other species of wildlife. Below the house, the land rolls gently down the length of the property offering more room for expansion for another home and more gardens. With a location only 6 minutes from the closest beach, this house is perfect for the beach lovers who enjoy elevated ocean views from a private jungle setting. In 2019 both the interior and exterior of the home were remodeled. Originally the house was built from concrete block with a concrete roof slated for adding a second floor.
